WASHINGTON, JANUARY 30, 1889.

NOTICE TO INSURANCE COMPANIES It is a novel thing in American experi ence that a corporation like the Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance Company should hazard so much as three quarters of a million dollars, possibly a full million, in the hands of a single agent, but it is nothing new that such a fiduciary by mismanagement or dishonesty should squander the greater portion of his trust. The defalcation of Mr. Joseph Moore at Indianapolis will have a startling effect upon policy-holders in all other companies. If so much of the surplus of a life company can be made way with through one man, why may not the Reserve fund, held sacred to policy-holders, be as easily encroached upon? The law, common to most of the States where insurance companies operate, is, in effect, that their funds shall be invested in unincumbered real estate worth double the amount of money loaned and in all life companies the investments must realize as much as four and a-half per cent. interest. Mr. Moore seems to have been one individual upon whose judgment the Connecticut Mutual relied for the placing of its loans in Indiana, and now, after fourteen years of unwise or improper management that company has to foot up a loss of three-quarters of a million or more. This may in no manner affect the perfect solvency of the company, but it illustrates that there is still an opening for the revision of insurance laws and that the safeguards around the reserve-which is held to meet the death claims-are not sufficient to render the assured entirely safe. How the company has managed to show the regularity of its Indiana investments during the last fourteen years is a matter for State Insurance Departments to consider.

We are not a "connoshier" in dress or Adonises, but if we remember correctly the style of dress which the ancient artists sculped upon Adonis was not of a character or quantity to relieve the embarrassment of a modest man like Mr. Gibson.

WHEN MAX O'RELL says that "American journalism has swallowed literature" he does not mean that the average editor has put an enemy in his stomach to steal away his brains, for the true journalist does not carry his brains in his stomach. But when he adds that "the reporter is now engaged in swallowing journalism," he comes very near the mark, since a tariff editorial invariably disappears before the august approach of a prize-fight item.

Senator Kenua is exceedingly foud of hunting and fishing and is so proud of the fine mountains and beautiful streams of West Virgiula that he has become an expert amateur photographer and has devoted much of his lelaure to taking views. Not long ago he conceived the idea of collecting a number of his bandsomest pictures, arranging them in an album and presenting them to Mr. Cleveland. While his work was in progress be went with Senator Blackburn to call upon the President, and during the interview the subject of ama-teur photography floated up.

"I like scenery—mountain scenery particularly," said the President, "but I don't care for pictures of it, and I don't see how a sensible man can go wandering around with a box on his back in search of mere perishable steedow."

Mr. Blackburn agreed fully with the President and Mr. Kenna changed the subject.
When they were fairly out of the White House grounds, Kenna said emphatically:
"D—n his appreciation of photography. He shouldn't have any of my pictures if he was dying for them!"
Nevertheless, a few days later, after the Senator from Kentucky had seen the President again, there came a good-humored message from the White House to Mr. Kenna which induced him to send the album, and now Mr. Cleveland will take it to his new home as a valued souvenir of his Administration.

A Prophecy of War. Mr. Edward Stanbope, British Secretary of State for War, addressed a meeting of his constituents in the Horncastle division of Lincolnshire, Eug., Monday evening. In the course of his remarks Mr. Stanhope said a thunder cloud was hanging over Europe, and that, somer or later, probably somer, it would burst, bringing the flereest and most horrible war ever known. Mr. George H. Kennerly of this city was married on Monday afternoon at Trenton, N. J., to Miss Kate E. Faussett of that place by Rev. Dr. Studdiford in the presence of a number of relatives and friends. The bridal couple left for Philadelphia the same evening, where they will spend a short time. From there they will spend a short time. From there they will probably go to New York before coming to Washington. They will start in about three weeks for Anniston, Ala., to stay some time.

The tea given by the ladies of the Homeo-pathic Free Dispensary yesterday evening was a thoroughly enjoyable reunion of the friends of the institution, who met to congratulate one another upon the good work accomplished and to renew their endeavers for the future. A considerable sum was realized, which will enable the institution to extend its field of usefulness.

Miss Minnie Naylor and Mr. George W. F. Swartzell were married yesterday morning at the Hamilne Church. The father of the bride, Rev. Henry R. Naylor, performed the ceremony. The happy couple left at noon for a trip South.

EARLY MORNING NEWS.

An Exciting Event.

An exciting event occurred early last night An exciting event occurred early last night in Brooklyn, when a wagon load of provisions were driven up to the Ninth avenue stables. It was gnarded by ten policemen, and the rumor spread that they were scabe in disguise. This excited the crowd that had assembled, and amidst oaths and shouts a volley of stones was hurled at the officers, slightly injuring several of them. The way to the stable was barricaded with harness, etc. The wagon finally got into the depot, but the attempt to furnish the other men the same way was abandoned. Annie Eisenhardt's Assault,

The air of mystery surrounding the case of Miss Annie Eisenhardt, the Camden, N. J., hospital nurse, the story of whose sufferings at the hands of an alleged assailant a discussion arose as to which had the greater intellect. Mr. Webster poured the last drop of the last bottle into his own glass and settled the Issue by a declaration that "the best test of a man's intellect is the quantity of wine he can take on and stand up under it."

"My dear, I would like much to have you call upon the Simpkinses—they are most desirable people."

"Heavens! Mr. Snodgrass, how inconsiderate you are. I was compelled yesterday to drop thirty desirable persons from my visiting The opinion as to the author of the outrage seems to be about equally divided between the story that she was the victim of her own actions and that some one connected with the institution in which she was employed committed the outrage. All sorts of theories have been worked out by the Camden
Police Department, but nothing can be definitely learned until the authorities have had an opportunity to question the woman. Her present condition, while not serious in any way, will prevent her leaving the hospital for at least several days.

Another Tunnel Under Chicago River. A Chicago dispatch says: "The West Chicago Street Railroad Company announced Chicago Street Railroad Company announced Sunday that it will soon begin the construction of a new tunnel under the Chicago River to cost $1,500,000. The nunnel will be a third of a mile long, and will be just north of Van Buren street, four squares from the company's other tunnel, connecting the south and west divisions at Washington street. The object is to accommodate the cars of Yerkes' West Side system, which now runs on Adams street and south of that point. All cars north of Adams street will go through the Washington-street tunnel."

Emma Abbott's Money Stolen. There is no longer any doubt that Moore, the half-million dollar embezzier from the Connecticut Mutual Life Insurance Company, is safe in Canada. His attorney, Barrett, has admitted it. Moore was in Indianapolis Sunadmitted it. Moore was in Indianapolis Sunday, but probably left on Monday. It has been discovered that when the late Eugene Wotherell, Emma's busband, bought a business block here last year, he paid $40,000 in cash for it. The Connecticut Mutual held a mortgage of $25,000 on the property, which Wetherell paid to Moore out of the purchase money and obtained a valid release from the campany, but it seems Moore never turned a dollar of the money over to the company and thus made a clear $25,000 from the prima donna's purchase. donna's purchase.

Rumors About Richmond Terminal Kiernan's News Letter says: "The insiders in Richmond Terminal are at work. The atin Richmond Terminal are at work. The attempt made by the bears to get holders to sell stock upon a snap injunction did not alarm any of the directors. The people who have been idle for months have been purchasing the stock, and last night the point was given out at the Union League Club that Richmond Terminal would sell as high as it ever sold."
General Thomas is quoted as saying: "We voted for the consolidation of the Georgia Central and Richmond Terminal to free the railroad situation in the South from the building of competitive lines. We knew that the ratiroad situation in the South from the building of competitive lines. We knew that the price demanded by the Hollins park was high, but we were informed that negotiations were pending with Drexel, Morgan & Co. for $5,000,000 or $10,000,000 to build lines competing with the East Tennessee and with Richmond and Danville roads, and it seemed to us that the excessive price paid for Georgia Central Railroad stock was nothing like the cost of competition which would result from building these roads."

Killed in a Practical Joke. At the Licking rolling-mili, Newport, Ky Monday afternoon, Joseph Hardick and William Steinken were managing the machine used for holsting scrap fron into the furnace. used for holsting scrap from into the furnace. A large rope with an iron hook is attached to the machine. Steinken suggested to Hardick that they play a joke on Joseph Tape. They hooked the rope around Tape's neck and started the machine. It pulled Tape along till the hook caught in an iron her and stopped, plausing the neck of the unfortunate man solidly against the bar. He was removed to his home, made his will and expired about two hours after the secident. A remarkable thing about the accident was that the man was able to walk around after it occurred. Hardick and Sielniken were arrested. Tape, before his death, said that it was accidental, and cleared the men of blame. They were released from Jail Monday night.

STRONTIA

This extraordinary water-remarkable as a great natural remedial agent and, at the same time, when carbonated, a most delightful and exhilarating beverage—was discovered in the Centennial Year 1876, on the farm of Mr. O. P. Maegiil, in Baltimore County, situated on Green Spring avenue, about five miles north of Druid Hill Park, and one-quarter of a mile from Strontia Spring station, on the Green Spring Strontia Spring Station, on the Green Spring Beanch of the Northern Central Railway. The elevation is nearly seen hundred feel above tide. Strontia water, while passessing astonishing curative properties, is especially in its highly effects of the state and elevation of the better and the state of the s Area, Stomach and Braces, Distrince and Dis-solvery.

It will restors the Tone of the Stomach and in-crease the appetite.

It will be found of great service in Scrofulous Affections and Weakness of the Lungs.

In offering this water to the public, the Com-pany desires to call attention to the standing of the citizens who testify to its worth, not know-ing of another product which shows at home higher testimoniais of excellence.

MEDICAL CERTIFICATES.

From the President of the Board of Health for the State of Maryland.

Towson, May 26, 1857.

O. P. Macoill, Esq. Dear Sir.—It gives me great pleasure to state that I was entirely relieved of Muscular Rheumatism of six months; standing by the free use of your Strontia Water. I suffered much pain and inability to use my arms. I tried a number of remedies without effect. Noticing the excellent results in Dr. Chancellor's case, and having always a high opinion of the water, I used it, with the above result, and have had no return of the Rheumatism. Sincerely yours. Sincerely yours, JACKSON PIPER, M. D.

From the Secretary of the Board of Health for the State of Maryland. Валимови, Мау 11, 1887.

BAITDONE, May 11, 1887.

Dear Sir: Your Stroutia Water has certainly done me a great deal of good. For several years I suffered painful attacks of Rheumaile Gout, for the cure of which I was induced to visit the principal springs and water cures of Europe, as well as many in this country, but without any positive relief. I have received more benefit from drinking atroutie Water than from all other sources, and I must record it as a very saliable remedial agent. As a table water and food solvent it is unsurpassed, and especially valuable in many forms of Dyspepsia.

Very truly yours.

C. W. CHANCELLOR, M. D.
